

Nursery Covid FAQs (Mar 2022)

What has changed?

We will hold induction visits instead of home visits. A separate letter explains this in more detail.

Arrival and dismissal times will be staggered as explained in your start date letter.

You will need to line up outside maintaining social distancing at both arrival and dismissal times. Once your child has settled into nursery, you will not be allowed into the premises.

What if there is a case of coronavirus in school?

The person who is showing symptoms will be sent home and is advised to isolate until well.

The people in the household are no longer required to isolate.

This is subject to change according to government guidelines.

Do I have to send my child to school?

If your child is well, they should attend.

Why can all children go to school now?

The transmission of coronavirus is now reduced, and it is no longer necessary for parents of eligible children to keep them at home.

The government's message has changed from "Stay at home" to "Stay Alert, control the virus, save lives".

Nursery Covid FAQs (Mar 2022)

How are you trying to make school safe?

Risk assessments have been carried out. These are available on our website alrisalahnursery.co.uk. They will be updated as needed.

Children or adults who show symptoms of COVID-19 will not attend nursery.

If someone becomes unwell whilst at school, we will follow quarantine and isolation guidance for the patient and all those who have been in contact with them.

Everyone will wash their hands more often than usual for 20 seconds.

Cleaning of the nursery building, and equipment will take place frequently.

What changes might there be in school?

The timings of the school day may be different and drop-off and pick up times may be staggered.

Your child will be allocated a key worker but in case of illness they may have a different teacher.

Parents and other external visitors will not be allowed into the building, without a prior appointment.
